Subject: Latest List of Fake Websites of International Social Sciences

Journals

In continuation of this office letter of even number dated June 02, 2014; the list of fake websites exposed to claim as official websites of Impact Factor Journals is here updated. These websites criminally usurp the identity of the recognized journals. And, fraudulently use title of journal, ISSN, editorial board and other information to encourage authors to submit articles and to transfer publication fees to a bank account. The fake websites are charging 200-500 $ (US dollars). Many researchers from Pakistan are publishing on these fake websites of the journals. The publications on these fake websites would not be considered as HEC Recognized Publications.

Authors publishing on fake websites of research journals will be solely responsible for publication. Any academic or other benefit cannot be awarded to author for publications on fake websites. The Higher Education Commission, Pakistan is not liable for any academic or financial loss by authors who have submitted articles on fake websites.

Following fake websites have so far been identified:
